4. COMPARISON OF BUDGET TO ACTUAL – FISCAL YEAR TO DATE THROUGH DECEMBER 31, 2014

Hartz said this report is fiscal year to date through December 31st. She said there has not been a lot of financial activity in Urban Renewal Agency to date but that will be changing soon. She said the expenses are well below the budgeted amount and revenues are above the budgeted expectations.

In response to a question from Chair Larson, Hartz said property tax revenue was higher than she anticipated. She said she predicted we would receive about $598,000 but we actually received $640,000. Tax revenue is still trickling in but we won't see much more.

Ingham said the Urban Renewal Agency committed to transferring $200,000 to assist with the water pipeline project debt and $90,000 for some street improvements. He said if both of those transfers happen, and significant materials and services expenditures occur, Hartz will execute a Du Jour loan which will change the general and debt service fund balances.

In response to a question from Chair Larson, Hartz said we will incur some expenses for the Farmers' Market and the upcoming architect work. That will come out of the redevelopment tool kit budget.
